All personnel have an obligation to report any of the Reportable Matters of which they are or become aware of, to the Company. However, due to various reasons, which include indifference to the issues, inherent fear of reprisal or plain non-clarity on the issues, such instances may go unreported. This Policy is therefore intended to encourage and enable personnel to raise concerns/alerts within the company, prior to seeking resolution outside the company.

The company shuns all kinds of malpractices, impropriety, statutory non-compliances or wrongdoings. This Policy ensures that Personnel are empowered to pro-actively bring to the notice of appropriate internal authorities, such instances, without fear of reprisal, discrimination or adverse consequences on their employments.

This Policy is not, however, intended to question financial or business decisions taken by the Company that are not Reportable Matters nor should it be used as a means to reconsider any matters which have already been addressed, through disciplinary or other internal procedures of the company. Further, this policy is not intended to cover career-related or other personal grievances.

The Whistleblower's role is that of a reporting party. Whistleblowers are not investigators or finders of facts; neither can they determine the appropriate corrective or remedial action that may be warranted. They are an agency to bring out/report something which they feel is a reportable matter.

4. False complaints

While this policy is intended to protect genuine whistleblowers from any unfair treatment, as a result of their disclosure, misuse of this protection by making false, frivolous and bogus complaints with mala fide intentions is strictly prohibited.
